

Discover the latest developments on EUR-Lex: 10/2020

We are pleased to communicate the latest changes on EUR-Lex.

Results page

- The filters on the left-hand side of the results page have been restructured and reordered. This gives a clearer and simpler picture of the filters available to users.

Consolidated acts

- The consolidated texts are enriched with additional anchors and links. This makes it easier to navigate within consolidated texts, enabling users to quickly find the parts which are affected by a particular modifying act.

- ▶ M1  COMMISSION IMPLEMENTING REGULATION \(EU\) 2015/2426 of 18 December 2015 L 334
- ▶ M2  COMMISSION IMPLEMENTING REGULATION \(EU\) 2017/815 of 12 May 2017 L 122

- A link that will always lead to the most up-to-date version of the consolidated texts is now available. This link will always follow the most recent updates. If the current consolidated version has any amending acts or corrigenda pending consolidation, the link will also return a list of these documents.

Search

- o In the Advanced search form, when the collection `Case-law` is selected, a new value, `Cites` is added in the box `Relations with other legal acts - Type of relation`. With this new option, you can search for case-law citing a specific legal act.

The screenshot shows the search interface with the following elements:

- Search filters:  Limit to documents published in Court Reports,  Search also in case-law summaries
- Search buttons: Search, Clear
- Search criteria: Other, Search for applicant parties, Search for defendant parties
- Relations with other legal acts: CELEX number of the legal act (3), Type of relation (Cites)
- Theme: EuroVoc thesaurus, Directory of case-law: classification scheme, Show cases from both classification schemes

- o If there is an error in your expert search query, EUR-Lex highlights in yellow where the syntax needs to be modified.

National transposition measures

- o The display of the machine translation results in the National Transposition Measures page is improved: the original language and the translation of the title of the document appear simultaneously.

The screenshot shows the machine translation interface with the following elements:

- Title and reference: MACHINE TRANSLATION
- From EN into: FR**
- TRANSLATE button
- Warning: *** The best you can get, ** Good for understanding, * Just a rough idea
- Original text: Règlement de 2018 relatif à l'approvisionnement en eau (qualité de l'eau) (amendement)
- Translated text: The Water Supply (Water Quality)(Amendment) Regulations 2018
- Official publication: Her Majesty's Stationery Office (HMSO); Number: 2018 No. 706; Publication date: 14/06/2018; Page number: 0001-00020

Mobile view

- o The display of the Search Results page has been simplified on the mobile version of EUR-Lex. Now, the languages of the OJ publication are hidden by default and can be shown by tapping `More information`.

#EURLexTip: multilingual display

Are you a translator, lawyer, or researcher? If you are looking for specific terms, comparing translations or just trying to better understand a text better you can use our multilingual display in the document notice.

You can display texts in up to three different languages side-by-side.
